MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director (Research)

SUBJECT: Requirements and Targets Applicable for Tactical-Type Aerial Reconnaissance over Cuba

1. This memo is for your information.
2. In pursuance of your request that the COMOR examine the kind of information which could be obtained through the use of RF101/F8U-type of aircraft to complement the present U-2 reconnaissance of Cuba and to indicate in order of priority the information and the targets which have been submitted to COMOR, the following is reported:
 - a. Tactical-type reconnaissance aircraft could acquire information on the identified SAM sites which would permit more reliable estimates of the operational status. This can be derived from observation of personnel activity, rotation of antennae and missiles at the ready position. It was recognized that acquiring this information could provide details of similar equipment deployed in the Soviet Union, which is not susceptible to overflight reconnaissance.

Specific Targets:

- (1) Mariel SAM site (230055N-824930W) believed to be most advanced deployed site located to date.
- (2) SAM assembly area at Santiago de las Vegas (225740N-822130W).

c. Current detailed information on other non-military installations of interest to operations.

4. The foregoing was discussed at a COMOR Meeting on 1 September 1962 and agreed at a special meeting on 3 September. At the first meeting Colonel Steakley of the JRC/DOD was present. He indicated he needed advice on what requirements in Cuba could be met by tactical type reconnaissance aircraft which the U-2 could not meet. The targets listed above were made available to Colonel Steakley by DIA on 4 September.
